

Dozen Hurt In Series Of Accidents

Christmas holiday fatalities mounted Wednesday as stormy weather, hurrying pedestrians and autoists rushing to various destinations contributed to the traffic toll, which included three dead and more than a dozen injured in San Mateo County.

The dead were Thomas J. Ryan, 55, a Belmont gardener; Robert Silicani, 58, Daly City; Clifford A. Kleckner, 31, San Francisco.

Mr. Ryan, employed at the Hillwell Sanitarium, was struck at El Camino Real near Ralston Ave. in Belmont by an automobile assertedly driven by William Garland, 48, Palo Alto, and was pronounced dead upon arrival at Mills Memorial Hospital. The driver was not held.

Mr. Silicani, employee of San Mateo County Road Department, died in Junipero Serra Hospital last evening from injuries suffered earlier in the day when he was crushed between a truck and a car driven by James Monaghan, 19, San Francisco, near the Colma underpass of Junipero Serra Blvd.

Three other county employees, Paul Guidani, 54, San Mateo; Fred Bauer, 62, Colma, and Owen Green, 22, Daly City, hurt in the same accident, were reported recovering.

Mr. Kleckner died in South San Francisco Hospital last evening from injuries suffered Dec. 22 when his automobile and a southbound Southern Pacific streamliner collided at San Bruno. His wife was killed instantly in the crash.

Mrs. Kella Trost, 62, San Francisco, pedestrian, was injured at Burlingame last night when struck by a car assertedly driven by Margaret G. O'Dell, 40, 1208 Vanowen Ave., Burlingame. She was not held. Mrs. Trost was taken to a San Francisco hospital.

A Gospel Curb on Communism

Lutheran Hour Cites Unbelief as National Menace—Urges Return to Bible for Truth

ST. LOUIS, (Special)—While government agencies, Congressional Committees and patriotic societies wage a direct war upon the spread of Communism in America, the Lutheran Hour radio program has become an effective force against the "Red Menace" for a different reason and along a totally different yet nonetheless effective front.

In fact, the broadcast is rapidly becoming a world-wide protest against the many "isms" of unbelief, for the Lutheran Hour is now heard not only from coast to coast in the United States, but in 15 foreign countries and in the Spanish language as well as English.

Originated as a crusade for Bible belief, and with the slogan "Bringing Christ to the Nations" as its theme, it was inevitable that the Lutheran Hour should come to grips with Communism. When the noted Lutheran Hour speaker, Dr. Walter A. Maier, attacks the Communist doctrine as a "destroyer of human hope," he expresses not only his own views as a theologian but the strong convictions of the sponsors of the broadcast.

The Lutheran Laymen's League, a national organization of men whose initiative and faith have helped the broadcast grow from a few stations to 235 in five years, are solidly behind the noted evangelist. They are not concerned with the political aspects of Communism, but they realize that the "Red" doctrine seeks to destroy religious faith and to stamp out the Bible. They have been made acutely aware, through letters to the Lutheran Hour, that thousands of American homes already have been infected with the virus of Communist unbelief.

People seeking spiritual guidance, or joyfully reporting blessings received through faith, send a tremendous volume of mail to the Lutheran Hour. As many as 12,500 letters in a single week are received at headquarters of the Lutheran Laymen's League, shown above. Below—the noted Lutheran Hour speaker, Walter A. Maier, Ph. D., at the microphone.

With the cooperation of the clergy and educators of their church, these Lutheran laymen have made the Lutheran Hour a continually expanding crusade for the Gospel. The listening audience, catching the spirit of the broadcast, has come forward with generous support to help pay the cost of the radio time. Local pastors in hundreds of communities coordinate their activities to the general program by visiting local listeners seeking spiritual guidance.

Communism is only one form of unbelief against which the Lutheran Hour carries on its international crusade. Sponsors of the broadcast regard so-called "modernism" in the churches a greater menace than Communism or atheism. And Dr. Maier has repeatedly pointed to the "destructive spread of anti-Biblical doctrines through certain universities."

More than once the Lutheran Hour has publicly challenged anybody to prove a single error in the Bible, and Dr. Maier has often reminded his audience that all such attempts have failed through centuries of doubt and disbelief. He has pointed out on the other hand how many of the prophecies of the Old Testament have been fulfilled in the life of Christ and by countless other events in civilized history.

Burglar Flees Amid Volley Of Bullets

SAN MATEO—Surprised as he was apparently attempting to burglarize the Fat Boy Barbecue on El Camino Real early Sunday, an unidentified man fled amid a volley of bullets fired by G. F. Dieser, owner, who lives in a house at the rear of the cafe.

Dieser said the man dived head-first into an automobile, which careened away to the north. Dieser believes the car was driven by a second man. The car's motor had been running.

Dieser told police he was awakened at 6:40 a.m. by the ringing of a burglar alarm connecting the house and cafe. He took a .38 caliber revolver and started for the cafe. As he stood outside, he said, he saw a man inside opening doors and looking around. As he neared the front door Dieser ordered him to put up his hands. Instead the man raced to the car and dived in. Dieser emptied his gun in an apparently futile attempt to hit the would-be burglar.

Police said the man had gained entry by cutting a hole in a pane of door glass, then reaching in and unlocking the door.

Another sack containing $65 was overlooked. Several nights later Fisher's home was looted of $170 in non-negotiable bonds.

Renewals Start Jan. 2

Motorists were advised today by Capt. E. F. Cassell of the Redwood City State Highway Patrol office that they should make the obtaining of their 1941 license plates one of their first items of business in 1941.

The annual renewal period for plates opens Thursday, Jan. 2, and ends at midnight, Feb. 4. Penalties will be imposed on delinquents.

All offices of the highway patrol, including the one at Redwood City which serves all of San Mateo County, will have the plates for distribution.

In order to obtain plates, a motorist must present his 1940 registration slip which states in the lower left hand corner the fee due in 1941. This method of notification was adopted by the State Department of Motor Vehicles to eliminate the mailing of notices to the more than two-and-a-quarter million California automobile owners.

This is a gain of 44.4 per cent over the 1930 population of 77,405.

The tentative figure announced last July was 109,298.

With the gain of nearly 2500 over the preliminary figures, hope was held that the original figure of 12,322 for Redwood City would be boosted by several hundred when the final count is announced.

Bayshore Freeway
Funds Due Next Year

Bayshore Hwy., which the state plans to convert into a freeway arterial in a long-range program to start next year, will come in for a big share of the biennial highway budget to be drawn up the latter part of this month. It has been indicated by members of the State Highway Commission.

The commissioners will meet in Los Angeles Dec. 31 to draw up the budget, which must be completed for printing by Jan. 6. What amount will be set aside for the start of the Bayshore project, a 27-mile super-highway connecting San Francisco and Palo Alto, has not been revealed.

Lawrence Barrett of Burlingame, chairman of the highway commission, said there would be no announcement of the funds set up for the various state highway projects, including the Bayshore freeway, until after the Dec. 31 meeting.

"We haven't set up anything yet," he declared today.

Draft Classifications
Near 600 Mark

Judge E. L. McAuliffe, chairman of the Redwood City draft board, has warned registrants to whom questionnaires have been sent that the pamphlets should be filled out and returned immediately. He said those who fail to turn in their questionnaires within the prescribed five-day limit would be subject to action from Sacramento headquarters, where delinquent notices will be sent.

Judge McAuliffe said that all but 25 or 30 of the first 600 questionnaires which have been mailed to registrants have been returned and classified. The board last night finished classification of all questionnaires on hand.

Because of the Christmas and New Year's Day holidays, the regular Thursday night meetings of the draft board have been revised for the next two weeks. Next meeting is scheduled for Monday night, Dec. 30, and the following meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 9.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—Large quantities of mushrooms were gathered during the week at the Sand Hill Rd. commons. This locality appears to be the home of the fungi. The herds of cattle that roam over these hills is the cause of the abundant growth.

Mrs. Rena Lynch, nee Roach, is here from Reno visiting friends and relatives over the holidays. Mrs. Lynch is the matron of the University of Nevada.

It is surprising that the Southern Pacific fails to remove the large palm tree in the square near the depot. It is a menace to travel. Some day it will be the cause of a frightful tragedy. Then the company may have a large damage suit on its hands.

The local post office did a greater volume of business this Christmas than ever before in the history of the office. Three extra carriers were temporarily mustered into service. If the business continues, Postmaster Morey says more employees will have to be added to Uncle Sam's payroll.

The members of the police department were busy all week delivering packages to the needy. More than 100 parcels were distributed.

There were five feet of water flowing down the San Francisco Creek yesterday as a result of the recent storm. The rain for the season is 5.30 inches as compared to 2.38 inches at this period last year.

That marriage that the people of Menlo Park have been looking forward to is scheduled to take place after the first of the year. The youngsters will reside here.

E. F. (Mike) Hara, former assistant chief of the Menlo Park Fire Department, has accepted a place in the Hillsborough Fire department and will shortly move with his family to the aristocratic village. Many people think Mr. Hara received a raw deal from the local organization, he served so well. That chapter, however, is closed and he begins a new career in the northern city that will appreciate his ability as a fire fighter.

A shakeup in several departments of the city government is contemplated after the first of the year. Where the ax will fall, no one knows, but it will fall.

Police Judge Ben Chew, 70, who for more than half a century had officiated at Alviso, died Dec. 22 at San Jose, following a long illness. He leaves a son, Ben Jr. Judge Chew was a native of Redwood City, the only son of the late Mrs. A. Titus.

who at one time owned the block adjoining the Sequoia Hotel on Main St. Chew as a boy shot ducks on the local marshes for the San Francisco market. He was an expert shot and a splendid hunter. He killed as many as 200 birds a day, receiving a handsome revenue during the duck season.

The Times-Gazette has doubled its circulation in Menlo Park during the past year. This is due to the service it renders its readers and the fairness and accuracy it gives the news.

With an array of glittering, gorgeous costumes and snappy new numbers, Miss Dorothy Roberts presented a preview of the Christmas Revue she showed at the Redwood Theater in Redwood City last weekend, for the benefit of the veterans at Palo Alto Veterans' Facility, Friday, Dec. 13.

Don Cossacks Open S. F. Winter Series

SAN FRANCISCO—The famous Don Cossacks, who have sung their way from the Steppes of Russia around the world, will return here Thursday evening, Jan. 16, to open the Winter series of the San Francisco Opera Association at the War Memorial Opera House.

The remaining eight are scheduled for full citizenship in the near future. Thug Binds Pair in Store, Takes $38

D. Nicolli, Redwood City dry goods store owner at 2331 El Camino Real, today had chalked up his Saturday Christmas business receipts as a complete loss.

A man about 22 years of age, described as wearing a dark coat, caused the loss—$38.35—aided by a menacing pistol which Nicolli believes was about .32 caliber.

Nicolli told Redwood City police two women were in his store Saturday night when the man entered at 7:55 p.m. While Nicolli waited on the women, his clerk, Miss Anne Murillo, asked if she could help the man. He said no, that he wanted to see the proprietor.

Then when the women had left, he asked to see some leather boots, and a sweater. Apparently not satisfied, he pulled his pistol, shoved it in Nicolli's stomach and forced Miss Murillo to tie her employer up with shoe strings.

Miss Murillo was next on the list, and she was tied up by the young robber before he relieved Nicolli of $3.50 which he had in his pocket, and took the balance from the cash register.

As he left he warned Nicolli not to make an outcry until 9:30 p.m. — it was then 9:05 — and walked out the front door.

The shouts of Nicolli and his clerk, however, attracted the attention of Joe Muck, a Chinese restaurant owner next door, who released them from their bonds and walked down the highway to put in a telephone call to the police. Muck didn't call from the dry goods store apparently for fear the robber would return.

Soybeans now are used in the manufacture of candy, cosmetic creams, hair tonic and leather dressing.
